

POTTR

Discreet in form, precise in function, Butler by POTTR is designed to elevate food without ever competing with it. Crafted in a stark, hand-applied white glaze, the range features a sculpted inner rim that defines the plating area, gently carved from the clay itself. This subtle recess balances proportions, creating a frame around the edge that anchors sauces and elements to the centre of the dish.

Comprising six stackable plates, a bowl, and two sizes of ramekins, Butler is both elegant and practical. Fully vitrified and made for commercial service, it's ideal for chefs who seek control in their presentation.
